

Approximated Length of a Visit?

Typically, the first visit into the office will take a lot longer than any other subsequent visits. This is due to the time needed to fill out the initial paperwork and the extra time that the therapist requires for the initial assessment. Appointments will generally take between 30 and 90 minutes.