

How Many Physical Therapy Treatments are Required?

Every individual needs are different and every treatment will depend upon the individual being treated. Therapy will be required until your physical therapist and you decide that you have reached the desired goals of the therapy or that it is determined that any further therapy would not be beneficial. Sometimes the therapy will be monitored by your physician as well.