

How Long Until I See Improvements?

This is again an individual thing that is determined by many of the same factors associated with how long the treatment will take. We will start any treatment by creating a plan that will include regular maintenance visits and follow up visits to our physical therapy and rehab clinic. If at any point in your treatment plan, you feel that you are not progressing fast enough or not progressing at all, we will be happy to change or modify your treatment plan and collaborate with you.
