

Vehicle Accident Rehab

Motor vehicle accident rehab or MVA is a highly specialized kind of rehabilitation. The goal of MVA is to return the patient to the physical condition they were in prior to the accident. MVA programs are typically collaborated on a large scale with additional health care providers. This kind of therapy often involves a variety of treatments blended together. Some of the treatment modalities used in conjunction with each other include: chiropractic care, acupuncture, hydrotherapy, massage, and rehabilitation work.